Sommario/riassunto	Outlaw Fathers provides an innovative reading of fatherhood and father-son relationships in a number of Victorian and modern literary texts. In addition to using an inventive psychoanalytic paradigm for redefining, or queering, the concept of patriarchy in literary studies and theory, it joins a larger contemporary conversation about changing masculinities and families.

Sommario/riassunto

Les études rassemblées ta concernent un même terroir, de l'estuaire de la Charente aux marais saintongeais, milieu inhospitalier en perpétuel mouvement mais aussi zone écologique très riche, qui constitue un champ privilégié pour appréhender les interactions entre populations humaines et environnement naturel À l'occasion d'un projet autoroutier (A 837 Saintes-Rochefort) ont été fouillés un site littoral et un site de plaine dont les vestiges illustrent la diversité des modes d'occupation du sol et d'exploitation du territoire. À La Challonnière, un atelier de sauniers (IV-IIIe s. av J -C) dont les activités ont été reconstituées avec précision, pus un habitat du haut Moyen Âge et son mobilier céramique typique des ateliers saintongeais ; à Mortantambe, une petite exploitation rurale <u'h" s. av. J -C) et les témoins de son économie (agriculture, chasse, pêche, métallurgie...), puis des structures et des sépultures attestant une occupation du VIIIe au xe s. Parallèlement a été retracée l'évolution du comblement de l'estuaire grâce à l'analyse pluridisciplinaire de sondages profonds Ces recherches sont un apport fondamental à l'histoire du peuplement et du paysage de l'amène-pays rochefortais. The studies compiled here all pertain to the same area, located between the Charente river valley and the Saintonge marshlands, a perpetually shifting and inhospitable setting that constitutes a privileged held of study for grasping the numerous and complex interactions between the human populations and their natural environment A seaside site and a plains site were excavated at the time of a motorway construction protect (the A 837 between Saintes and Rochefort), and the vestiges found illustrate the diversity of settlement and uses of these lands. In La Challonnière a saltworks (4th-3rd century BC) was uncovered and its activities retraced m detail, as well as an early Middle Ages settlement and its ceramic artefacts typical of Saintonge workshops. In Mortantambe a small...
