

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910453887203321
Autore	Kis Janos <1943->
Titolo	Politics as a Moral Problem / by Janos Kis ; translated by Zoltan Miklosi
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York : , : CEU Press, , 2008 ©2008
ISBN	615-5211-61-2 1-283-24811-5 9786613248114 1-4416-0393-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (313 p.)
Altri autori (Persone)	MiklosiZoltan
Disciplina	172
Soggetti	Ethik Politik Political science - Philosophy Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	The circumstances of politics -- Realism : the unconstrained thesis -- Indirect motivation : the narrow thesis -- Outlines of a neo-classical theory -- Realism : the constrained thesis -- Indirect motivation : the wide thesis -- Dirty hands in politics -- Dirty hands and moral dilemmas -- Appendix : "living in truth."
Sommario/riassunto	"The instincts of democratic citizens concerning political morality pull in opposite directions. On the one hand, we tend to think that the norms of political action are more lenient than those of private ethics. But we also believe that politicians are subject to more demanding expectations than ordinary people. Political theory must provide a coherent account of these apparently conflicting beliefs." "According to Janos Kis, the classical doctrine is capable of accounting for the first one, but at the cost of sacrificing the second. The main aim of the book is to show how the two intuitions can be integrated in a unified theory, and what such a theory tells us about the role of moral accountability in democratic politics."--Jacket.

