

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910453942903321
Autore	Winch Julie <1953->
Titolo	Between slavery and freedom : free people of color in America from settlement to the Civil War // Julie Winch
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham, Maryland : , : Rowman & Littlefield, , [2014] ©2014
ISBN	1-4422-6224-9 0-7425-5115-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (187 p.)
Collana	The African American history series
Disciplina	973/.0496073
Soggetti	Free African Americans - History Free African Americans - Social conditions Free African Americans - Attitudes - History Electronic books. United States Race relations History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction : "On liberty's borderlands -- Property or persons: black freedom in colonial America, 1513-1770 -- In liberty's cause: black freedom in revolutionary America, 1770-1790 -- Race, liberty and citizenship in the new nation, 1790-1820 -- "We will have our rights": redefining black freedom, 1820-1850 -- "No rights which the white man was bound to respect": black freedom and black citizenship, 1850-1861 -- Epilogue : black freedom, white freedom.
Sommario/riassunto	Between Slavery and Freedom explores one of the central ironies of racial dynamics in this nation's history from the colonial era to the end of the Civil War.