

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910454224603321
Autore	Tarrow Sidney G.
Titolo	The new transnational activism // Sidney Tarrow [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cambridge : , : Cambridge University Press, , 2005
ISBN	1-107-15411-1 1-281-08582-0 9786611085827 0-511-79105-4 0-511-35022-8 0-511-35065-1 0-511-34783-9 0-511-56818-5 0-511-34895-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xv, 258 pages) : digital, PDF file(s)
Collana	Cambridge studies in contentious politics
Disciplina	303.48/2
Soggetti	Internationalism Coalitions Political activists Transnationalism
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Title from publisher's bibliographic system (viewed on 05 Oct 2015).
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction -- Structure, process and actors -- Complex internationalism -- Rooted cosmopolitans and transnational activists -- The global in the local -- Global framing -- Internalizing contention -- Transitional processes -- Diffusion and modularity -- Shifting the scale of contention -- The local in the global -- Externalizing contention -- Building transnational coalitions -- Transnationalism at home and abroad -- Transnational impacts on domestic activism -- Internationalization and transnational activism -- Glossary.
Sommario/riassunto	The New Transnational Activism, first published in 2005, shows how even the most prosaic activities can assume broader political meanings when they provide ordinary people with the experience of crossing transnational space. This means that we cannot be satisfied with defining transnational activists through the ways they think. The defining feature of transnationalism in this book is relational, and not cognitive. This emphasis on activism's relational structure means that even as they make transnational claims, transnational activists draw on the resources, the networks, and the opportunities in which they are embedded, and only then - if at all - on more distant transnational links. But we can no more sharply draw a line between domestic and international politics in studying transnational activism than we could ignore local politics in studying its national equivalent. Understanding the processes that link the local, the national and the international is the major undertaking of the book.
