

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910454567003321
Autore	Pages Carmen
Titolo	Job creation in Latin America and the Caribbean [[electronic resource] ] : recent trends and policy challenges / / Carmen Pages, Gaelle Pierre, and Stefano Scarpetta
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Washington, D.C., : Palgrave Macmillan and The World Bank, 2009
ISBN	1-282-13623-2 9786612136238 0-8213-8025-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (484 p.)
Collana	Latin American development forum series
Altri autori (Persone)	PierreGaelle ScarpettaStefano
Disciplina	331.12/0424098
Soggetti	Manpower policy - Latin America Manpower policy - Caribbean Area Unemployment - Latin America Unemployment - Caribbean Area Electronic books. Latin America Economic policy Caribbean Area Economic policy
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Acknowledgments; Abbreviations; Overview; Figures; PART I: Employment Dynamics in Latin America and the Caribbean; Tables; PART II: Structural Changes, Employment, and Productivity Growth: Main Patterns; Boxes; PART III: Policies to Foster the Creation of Good Jobs and Help Workers through Labor Market Transitions; Index
Sommario/riassunto	This book analyzes recent labor market trends in Latin American countries and the factors that underlie the failure to create more-and more productive and rewarding-jobs, a failure with substantial political and social costs. The authors analyze how growth and job creation in the region's economies compare with other emerging countries, the impact of job creation and destruction on productivity growth and the creation of ""good"" jobs, and the relative importance and role of labor market policies in improving labor market outcomes in the region.

---