

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910455034903321
Autore	Sabia Debra <1957->
Titolo	Contradiction and Conflict [[electronic resource]] : The Popular Church in Nicaragua // Debra Sabia
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Tuscaloosa, : University of Alabama Press, c1997
ISBN	0-8173-8757-9 0-585-21162-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (252 p.)
Disciplina	282/.7285/09048
Soggetti	Socialism and Christianity - Nicaragua - History - 20th century Socialism and Christianity - Catholic Church - History - 20th century Basic Christian communities - Nicaragua - History Electronic books. Nicaragua Politics and government 1990- Nicaragua Politics and government 1979-1990 Nicaragua Church history 20th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 221-230) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Preface; 1. Introduction; 2. The Second Vatican Council; 3. The Rise of the Popular Church; 4. Radicalization of the Popular Church; 5. Shattering of the Christian Coalition; 6. The Marxist Type; 7. The Revolutionary Christian Type; 8. The Reformist Christian Type; 9. The Alienated Christian Type; 10. The Future of the Popular Church; References; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Contradiction and Conflict explores the rich history, ideology, and development of the popular church in Nicaragua. From careful assessments within the context of Nicaragua's revolutionary period (1970s-1990), this book explains the historical conditions that worked to unify members of the Christian faith and the subsequent factors that fragmented the Christian community into at least four identifiable groups with religious and political differences, contradictions, and conflicts. Debra Sabia describes and analyzes the rise, growth, and fragmentation of the popular chu

