Sommario/riassunto	Attitudes toward homosexuality in the pre-modern Arab-Islamic world are commonly depicted as schizophrenic-visible and tolerated on one hand, prohibited by Islam on the other. Khaled El-Rouayheb argues that this apparent paradox is based on the anachronistic assumption that homosexuality is a timeless, self-evident fact to which a particular culture reacts with some degree of tolerance or intolerance. Drawing on poetry, biographical literature, medicine, dream interpretation, and Islamic texts, he shows that the culture of the period lacked the concept of homosexuality. </

Sommario/riassunto

L'aménagement du territoire est une des grandes aventures, politique, économique et intellectuelle des cinquante dernières années. Avec les changements de temps et d'espace, et donc de société, il a évolué d'une conception hexagonale et centralisatrice vers des schémas nouveaux, où, au-delà des « aménageurs », les « aménagés » prennent de plus en plus la parole et où, en liaison avec l'Europe et le Monde, montent en puissance les villes et les régions. En croisant analyses de chercheurs (en diverses disciplines) et témoignages d'acteurs (hauts fonctionnaires, anciens et actuel délégués de la DATAR – devenue DIACT –, élus, urbanistes...), cet ouvrage, issu d'un colloque de Cerisy, examine cette évolution et propose une réflexion critique débouchant sur les problèmes les plus contemporains, notamment en matière d'exercice de la démocratie. Il consacre un chapitre au rôle de l'université dans l'aménagement du territoire (en montrant comment celle-ci fut à la fois un objet et un instrument) et, prenant la Normandie comme principal laboratoire, engage, avec certains acteurs des collectivités territoriales, de l'entreprise et du monde universitaire, un débat prospectif sur son avenir.
