

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910455234903321
Autore	Moeller Susan D.
Titolo	Compassion fatigue : how the media sell disease, famine, war, and death // Susan D. Moeller
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York : , : Routledge, , 1999
ISBN	0-415-90926-0 1-138-17358-4 1-135-96307-X 1-135-96308-8 1-280-40703-4 0-203-90035-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (399 p.)
Disciplina	070.44936334 302.230973
Soggetti	Disasters Sensationalism in journalism Television broadcasting of news War Disasters - Press coverage - United States War - Press coverage - United States Television broadcasting of news - United States Sensationalism in journalism - United States Journalism Journalism & Communications Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages [323]-372) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Book Cover; Title; Contents; Introduction: Riding with the Four Horsemen; Compassion Fatigue; Covering Pestilence: Sensationalizing Epidemic Disease; Covering Famine: The Famine Formula; Covering Death: The Americanization of Assassinations; Covering War: Getting Graphic About Genocide; Conclusion; Notes; Acknowledgments; Index

Sommario/riassunto

Susan D. Moeller asks why international news has become tabloid in style and light on content - is this a response to audience demands, or does it create a particular sort of audience, one which has seen too much to care?
