

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910455358103321
Autore	Plant Raymond
Titolo	Politics, theology, and history // Raymond Plant [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cambridge : , : Cambridge University Press, , 2001
ISBN	1-107-11189-7 0-511-32806-0 0-511-17416-0 1-280-41663-7 0-521-43320-7 0-511-61277-X 0-511-15379-1 0-511-05262-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xv, 380 pages) : digital, PDF file(s)
Collana	Cambridge studies in ideology and religion ; ; 13
Disciplina	261.7
Soggetti	Christianity and politics Liberalism - Religious aspects - Christianity Religious pluralism - Christianity
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Title from publisher's bibliographic system (viewed on 05 Oct 2015).
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 360-372) and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Half-title; Series-title; Title; Copyright; Dedication; Contents; Preface; CHAPTER 1 Liberal society and political theology; PART I The possibility of political theology; PART II The site of political theology; PART III Liberalism, religion and social unity; Select bibliography; Index of names; Index of subjects
Sommario/riassunto	Politics, Theology and History, first published in 2001, is a major book by a prominent academic and an active politician. It ranges widely across the disciplines of theology, political theory and philosophy and poses acute questions about the basic moral foundations of liberal societies. Lord Plant focuses on the role that religious belief can and ought to play in argument about public policy in a pluralistic society. He examines the potential political implications of Christian belief and the ways in which it may be deployed in political debate. The book discusses the place of religious belief in the formation of policy and asks what issues in modern society might be the legitimate objects of a Christian social and political concern. This important study of the relationship between religion and politics will be of value to students, academics, politicians, church professionals, policy makers and all concerned with the moral fabric of contemporary life.
