

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910456255003321
Autore	Lyerly Cynthia Lynn <1960->
Titolo	Methodism and the southern mind, 1770-1810 [[electronic resource] /] / Cynthia Lynn Lyerly
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Oxford University Press, 1998
ISBN	1-280-45399-0 0-19-535424-9 0-585-18277-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (262 p.)
Collana	Religion in America series
Disciplina	287.0975 287/.675/09033
Soggetti	Methodist Church - Southern States - History Methodism Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 225-238) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Introduction: When Worlds Collide; ONE: Revolutions Civil and Religious: Methodist Beginnings in America; TWO: The Marrow of the Methodist Self: Doctrines, Values, and Practices; THREE: Slaves and Free Blacks in the Church; FOUR: The Poverty of Riches: Methodists and Class; FIVE: ""Mothers in Israel"": White Women in the Church; SIX: Slavery, Racism, and the Master-Slave Relationship; SEVEN: Turning the World Upside Down: The Stakes of the Conflict; Epilogue; Appendix; Notes; Selected Bibliography; Index;
Sommario/riassunto	This study analyses the conflicts between Methodists and their opponents in the Revolutionary and early national American South, showing how by condemning pride, violence and slavery, Methodists fashioned an ethic radically at odds with that of the southern elites and the masculine culture of honour. In the RELIGION IN AMERICA series.