

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910456428503321
Autore	Williams Heather Andrea
Titolo	Self-taught [[electronic resource]] : African American education in slavery and freedom // Heather Andrea Williams
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Chapel Hill, : University of North Carolina Press, c2005
ISBN	1-4696-0484-1 0-8078-8897-4
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (321 p.)
Collana	The John Hope Franklin series in African American history and culture
Disciplina	370/.89/96073075
Soggetti	African Americans - Education - Southern States - History Enslaved persons - Education - Southern States - History Freedmen - Education - Southern States - History Self-culture - Southern States - History Literacy - Southern States - History Education - Social aspects - Southern States - History Slavery - Southern States - History Electronic books. Southern States Race relations
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Based on the author's dissertation (Yale University).
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [203]-285) and index.
Nota di contenuto	In secret places : acquiring literacy in slave communities -- A coveted possession : literacy in the first days of freedom -- The men are actually clamoring for books : African American soldiers and the educational mission -- We must get education for ourselves and our children : advocacy for education -- We are striving to do business on our own hook : organizing schools on the ground -- We are laboring under many difficulties : African American teachers in freedpeople's schools -- A long and tedious road to travel for knowledge : textbooks and freedpeople's schools -- If anybody wants an education, it is me : students in freedpeople's schools -- First movings of the waters : the creation of common school systems for Black and White students -- Epilogue -- Appendix : African Americans, literacy, and the law in the antebellum South.

