

|                         |   |
|-------------------------|---|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910456896703321   |
| Autore                  | Ongiri Amy Abugo <1968->  |
| Titolo                  | Spectacular blackness [[electronic resource] ] : the cultural politics of the Black power movement and the search for a Black aesthetic // Amy Abugo Ongiri   |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Charlottesville, : University of Virginia Press, 2010   |
| ISBN                    | 1-280-48991-X97866135851410-8139-2960-1   |
| Descrizione fisica      | 1 online resource (240 p.)  |
| Disciplina              | 322.4/20973   |
| Soggetti                | Black power - United States - History - 20th centuryBlack Arts movementBlack nationalism - United States - History - 20th centuryAfrican American arts - 20th centuryAfrican Americans - Intellectual life - 20th centuryAfrican Americans - Race identityArts - Political aspects - United States - History - 20th centuryElectronic books.  |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese   |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa  |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia  |
| Note generali           | Description based upon print version of record.   |
| Nota di bibliografia    | Includes bibliographical references (p. [205]-218) and index.   |
| Nota di contenuto       | Cotton comes to Harlem, an introduction -- "Black is beautiful!", Black power culture, visual culture, and the Black Panther Party -- Radical chic, affiliation, identification, and the Black Panther Party -- "We waitin' on you", Black power, Black intellectuals, and the search to define a Black aesthetic -- "People get ready!", music, revolutionary nationalism, and the Black arts movement -- "You better watch this good shit!", Black spectatorship, Black masculinity, and Blaxploitation film -- Conclusion, Dick Gregory at the Playboy Club. |