

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910457278303321
Autore	Rafuse Ethan Sepp <1968->
Titolo	McClellan's war [[electronic resource] ] : the failure of moderation in the struggle for the Union / / Ethan S. Rafuse
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bloomington [Indiana], : Indiana University Press, c2005
ISBN	1-280-12442-3 9786613528285 0-253-00614-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (544 p.)
Disciplina	973.7/41/092 B
Soggetti	Strategy - History - 19th century Command of troops - History - 19th century Generals - United States Electronic books. United States History Civil War, 1861-1865 Campaigns
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	"Traditions and associations ... were all on the side of the old Whig Party" -- "I can do as well as anyone in both my studies and my military duties" -- Political realignment -- "A strong Democrat of the Stephen A. Douglas school" -- To kill secession -- "A new and strange position" -- Supreme command -- "You have no idea of the pressure brought to bear here" -- "What do you think of the science of generalship?" -- The Peninsula campaign -- "I do not like the . . . turn that affairs are taking" -- "He has acted badly" -- "To meet the necessities of the moment" -- "The most terrible battle" -- "It is my duty to submit to the presdt's proclamation & quietly continue doing my duty" -- The last campaign.
Sommario/riassunto	This biography of the controversial Union general George B. McClellan examines the influences and political antecedents that shaped his behavior on the battlefield, behavior that so frustrated Lincoln and others in Washington that he was removed from his command soon after the Union loss at Antietam. Rather than take sides in the controversy, Ethan S. Rafuse finds in McClellan's politics and his desire to restore sectional harmony ample explanation for his actions. Rafuse sheds new light on the general who believed in the rule of reason and moderation, who sought a policy of conciliation with the South, and who wanted to manage the North's military resources in a way that would impose rational order on the battlefield.

---