

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910457494803321
Autore	Nunez Cabeza de Vaca Alvar <16th cent.>
Titolo	The South American expeditions, 1540-1545 [[electronic resource] /] / Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca ; translated with notes by Baker H. Morrow
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Albuquerque, : University of New Mexico Press, 2011
ISBN	1-283-63710-3 0-8263-5065-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (266 p.)
Altri autori (Persone)	MorrowBaker H. <1946->
Disciplina	980/.013
Soggetti	Governors - Rio de la Plata Region (Argentina and Uruguay) Electronic books. South America Discovery and exploration Spanish South America Description and travel Early works to 1800 Rio de la Plata Region (Argentina and Uruguay) Discovery and exploration Spanish Rio de la Plata Region (Argentina and Uruguay) Description and travel Early works to 1800
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Front Cover; Title Page; Copyright; Contents; Translator's Note; Translator's Acknowledgments; 1: A Word About the Commentaries of Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca; 2: We Leave the Island of Cape Verde; 3: The Governor and His Fleet Arrive at Santa Catalina, in Brazil, Where the Company Disembarks; 4: Nine Christians Come to the Island; 5: The Governor Makes Haste on His Journey; 6: The Governor and His People Begin Their First Ventures into the Interior; 7: What the Governor and His People Went By Along the Road, and What Sort of Country It Is 8: Hardships Along the Way for the Governor and His People, and the Kinds of Pines and Pine Cones in That Land9: The Explorers Starve, but Save Themselves with Worms, Which They Get from Some Canes; 10: The Indians Are Afraid of Horses; 11: The Governor Travels by Canoe on the Rio de Iguaza, and the Men Carry their Canoes on Their Shoulders for a League to Bypass a Bad Stretch of the River at Some Rapids; 12: They Make Rafts to Carry the Sick; 13: The Governor Arrives

at the City of Asuncion, Where He Finds the Christian Spaniards He Had Come to Help

14: The Spaniards Who had Fallen Ill on the Rio de Piqueri Arrive in the

City of Asuncion15: The Governor Sends Help to the People Who Had Gone in His Flagship to Buenos Aires to Assist in the Resettlement of

That Port; 16: They Kill the Enemies They Capture, and Then Eat Them;

17: The Governor Concludes a Peace with the Agaces Tribe; 18: The Settlers Complain About Your Majesty's Officials to the Governor; 19:

They Complain About the Guaycuru Indians to the Governor; 20: The Governor Asks for More Details About the Complaint

21: The Governor and His People Cross the River, and Two Christians

Drown22: Spies Go Out by Order of the Governor to Follow the

Guaycuru Indians; 23: Following the Enemy, the Governor is Advised that They Are Just Ahead; 24: A Jaguar Causes an Uproar Between the

Spaniards and the Indians; 25: The Governor and His Men Catch Up with the Enemy; 26: The Governor Breaks His Enemies; 27: The Governor Returns to the City of Asuncion with All His Men; 28: The

Agaces Indians Break the Peace; 29: The Governor Sets One of the

Guaycuru Prisoners Free and Sends Him to Fetch the Others

30: The Guaycurues Come to Give Their Allegiance to His Majesty31:

The Governor, Making Peace with the Guaycurues, Returns His

Prisoners; 32: The Aperues Indians Come to Make Peace and Give Their

Allegiance; 33: Sentence Is Passed on the Agaces, with an Opinion

Offered by the Clerics, the Captains, and Your Majesty's Officials; 34:

The Governor Again Helps the People of Buenos Aires; 35: Three

Christians and Some Indians Come Back from Their Explorations; 36:

Boards Are Cut for Brigantines and a Caravel; 37: The Indians of the Countryside Return to Be of Service

38: The Town of Asuncion Burns

Sommario/riassunto

This book is one of the great first-person accounts of the Spanish conquest of the Americas in the sixteenth century. Morrow's new translation makes Cabeza de Vaca's adventures available to a wide English-speaking audience for the first time.
