

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910457690303321
Autore	Rubin Nissan
Titolo	Time and life cycle in Talmud and Midrash [[electronic resource]] : socio-anthropological perspectives // Nissan Rubin
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Boston, : Academic Studies Press, 2008
ISBN	1-61811-039-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (236 p.)
Collana	Judaism and Jewish life
Disciplina	296.1/206
Soggetti	Judaism - Customs and practices Life cycle, Human - Religious aspects - Judaism Rabbinical literature - History and criticism Midrash Sociology Anthropology Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 193-[209]) and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	The sociology and anthropology of Talmudic texts -- The clothing of the primordial Adam as a symbol of apocalyptic time in the Midrashic sources -- Brit milah: a study of change in custom -- Coping with the value of the Pidyon haben payment in rabbinic literature: an example of a social change process -- Birth and marriage rituals: women's status in a critical reading of the texts -- The sages' conception of the body and soul -- From corpse to corpus: the body as a text in Talmudic literature -- Birkat avelim--the blessing of mourners: ritual aspects of social change.
Sommario/riassunto	Focusing on the concepts of time and the life cycle, this collection of articles examines Jewish life in the Talmudic period through the lens of Jewish law and custom of the time. The essays are the work of Nissan Rubin (one of them written in collaboration with Admiel Kosman) and come together to present the cultural perspective of the sages and scholars who produced the stepping-stones of Jewish life and custom. By using a structural approach, Rubin is able to identify processes of long-term change in a society that remains largely traditional and stable. Symbolic analysis supplies an additional dimension to these studies, enabling the reader to experience the cultural subtexts.
