

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910458228803321
Titolo	Political discussion in modern democracies : a comparative perspective // edited by Michael R. Wolf, Laura Morales and Ken'ichi Ikeda
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Milton Park Abingdon Oxon ; ; New York : , : Routledge, , 2010
ISBN	1-136-96415-0 1-282-62934-4 9786612629341 0-203-85069-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (288 p.)
Collana	Routledge/ECPR studies in European political science ; ; 61
Altri autori (Persone)	IkedaKen'ichi <1955-> Morales Diez de UlzurrunLaura WolfMichael R
Disciplina	320.01/4
Soggetti	Political participation Democracy Political sociology Communication in politics Comparative government Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Book Cover; Title; Copyright; Contents; Illustrations; Contributors; Series editor's preface; Acknowledgements; 1 Introduction: Political discussion in modern democracies from a comparative perspective; Part I Deliberation and discussion as the object of analysis; 2 Dissecting deliberative democracy: A review of theoretical concepts and empirical findings; 3 The equality paradox of deliberative democracy: Evidence from a national Deliberative Poll; 4 What political discussion means and how do the French and (French- speaking) Belgians deal with it? 5 Participatory budgeting, political discussion networks and political information in two Brazilian cities6 Local partisan context and political discussion network construction: Minority party loyalty under challenge; 7 Voters' political conversations during the 2005 German parliamentary election campaign; Part II The consequences of discussion and deliberation; 8 The consequences of discussion and deliberation within networks: An introduction; 9 The impact of everyday political talk on involvement, knowledge and informed voting

10 Patterns of support for the welfare state: The role of media and interpersonal communication in direct democratic votes in Switzerland (1996-2004)11 Social networks, voting and campaign participation in Japan: The interpersonal political environment and the autonomous dimension of social networks; 12 The role of political discussion in developing democracies: Evidence from Hungary; 13 Getting a single message?: The impact of homogeneous political communication contexts in Spain in a comparative perspective
14 Conclusion: Assessing the role of political discussion in democratic politics in comparative perspectiveBibliography; Index

Sommario/riassunto

The study of political discussion has been broken into sub-categories including deliberative democracy, discursive studies, dynamics of interpersonal communication, and discussion network analyses, with substantial numbers of books and articles covering each. However, these areas are often treated distinctly and not brought together in a comprehensive and systematic way. Political Discussion in Modern Democracies: a comparative perspective reviews the breadth of the different literatures on political science and provides original comparative analyses of the nature of
