Sommario/riassunto	Donald Ritchie here offers a vibrant chronicle of news coverage in our nation's capital, from the early days of radio and print reporting and the heyday of the wire services to the brave new world of the Internet. Beginning with 1932, when a newly elected FDR energized the sleepy capital, Ritchie highlights the dramatic changes in journalism that have occurred in the last seven decades. We meet legendary columnists-- including Walter Lippmann, Joseph Alsop, and Drew Pearson (voted ""the best rat catching reporter in town"")--as well as the great investigative reporters, from Paul Y. Anderson
