

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910460432203321
Autore	Medaille John
Titolo	Toward a Truly Free Market [[electronic resource]] : A Distributist Perspective on the Role of Government, Taxes, Health Care, Deficits, and More
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Newburyport, : Intercollegiate Studies Institute, 2014
ISBN	1-4976-4436-4
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (339 p.)
Collana	Culture of enterprise series Toward a truly free market
Disciplina	330.1
Soggetti	Capitalism -- Social aspects Distributive justice Economic policy -- Social aspects Economics -- Sociological aspects Free enterprise -- Social aspects Distributive justice - Sociological aspects Economics - Sociological aspects Economic policy - Social aspects Capitalism - Social aspects Free enterprise Business & Economics Economic Theory Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Cover Page; Title Page; Contents; Chapter 1 What's in a Name?; Chapter 2 If It Ain't Broke ...; Chapter 3 Political Economy as a Science; Chapter 4 The Purpose of an Economy; Chapter 5 Equilibrium, or The Tao of Economics; Chapter 6 Justice and the Political Economy; Chapter 7 The Fictitious Commodities: Money; Chapter 8 The Fictitious Commodities: Labor; Chapter 9 The Fictitious Commodities: Land; Chapter 10 Property as Proper to Man; Chapter 11 The Just Wage as the Key to Equilibrium; Chapter 12 Taxes and Tax Reform; Chapter 13 The Proper Role of Government; Chapter 14 The Cost of Government

Chapter 15 Taxes, Economic Rent, and ExternalitiesChapter 16
Distributism and Industrial Policy; Chapter 17 Distributism and the Health Care System; Chapter 18 The Practice of Distributism; Chapter
19 Building the Ownership Society; Notes; Select Bibliography; Index;
Copyright Page

Sommario/riassunto

<DIV>John C. Médaille is the author of <I>The Vocation of Business:
Social Justice in the Marketplace</I> and an instructor at the University of Dallas. He writes and lectures frequently on economics. Médaille has more than thirty years' experience in management at large corporations and as a small businessman, and he served five terms as a city councilman in his hometown of Irving, Texas.
<br clear=""all""

</DIV>