

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910461199703321
Autore	Salters R. B.
Titolo	Jonah & Lamentations // R.B. Salters
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Sheffield, England : , : JSOT Press for the Society for Old Testament Study, , [1994] ©1994
ISBN	1-283-19991-2 9786613199911 0-567-47505-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (126 p.)
Collana	Old Testament guides
Disciplina	224.306
Soggetti	Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Acknowledgments; Abbreviations; Part I: Jonah; Part II: Lamentations; Index of Biblical References; Index of Authors
Sommario/riassunto	While the book of Jonah is, in some ways, unique, it stands firmly in the Old Testament tradition. There have been various suggestions as to genre, the most likely being the (short) didactic story; but the aim of the author is not easy to discern. The authenticity of Jonah's message to the Ninevites is stressed, as is their repentance, and Yahweh's mercy. The purpose of the book must lie in a combination of these themes. Lamentations is a neglected book, perhaps because it was associated with the book of Jeremiah and considered almost as an appendix. On the question of genre it has the closest