

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910461650803321
Titolo	The Edinburgh critical history of nineteenth century philosophy [[electronic resource] /] / edited by Alison Stone
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Edinburgh, : Edinburgh University Press, 2011
ISBN	1-283-22177-2 9786613221773 0-7486-4701-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (353 p.)
Collana	Edinburgh Critical History of Philosophy
Altri autori (Persone)	StoneAlison
Disciplina	109
Soggetti	Philosophy, Modern - 19th century Idealism - 19th century Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; General Editors' Preface; Introduction - Philosophy in the Nineteenth Century; 1 - The New Spinozism; 2 - The Absolute in German Idealism and Romanticism; 3 - The Question of Romanticism; 4 - The Hermeneutic Turn in Philosophy of Nature in the Nineteenth Century; 5 - Idealism and Naturalism in the Nineteenth Century; 6 - Darwinism and Philosophy in the Nineteenth Century: The 'Whole of Metaphysics'?; 7 - Faith and Knowledge; 8 - Philosophising History: Distinguishing History as a Discipline; 9 - Genealogy as Immanent Critique: Working from the Inside 10 - Embodiment: Conceptions of the Lived Body from Maine de Biran to Bergson 11 - The Unconscious in the German Philosophy and Psychology of the Nineteenth Century; 12 - Individuality, Radical Politics and the Metaphor of the Machine; 13 - The Rise of the Social; 14 - Theory and Practice of Revolution in the Nineteenth Century; 15 - Nihilism in the Nineteenth Century: From Absolute Subjectivity to Superhumanity; 16 - Repetition and Recurrence: Putting Metaphysics in Motion; 17 - Nineteenth-Century Philosophy in the Twentieth Century and Beyond; Notes on contributors; Index
Sommario/riassunto	The Edinburgh Critical History of Philosophy is a seven-volume reference work on the history of philosophy. This volume surveys the key issues and debates distinct to nineteenth-century philosophy.
