Sommario/riassunto	Debates on the Holocaust is the first attempt to survey the development of Holocaust historiography for a generation. It analyses the development of history writing on the destruction of the European Jews from just before the end of the Second World War to the present day, and argues forcefully that history writing is as much about the present as it is the past. The book guides the reader through the major debates in Holocaust historiography and shows how all of these controversies are as much products of their own time as they are attempts to uncover the past. Sommario/riassunto	Après des décennies d'études descriptives, la biologie du cancer vit une véritable révolution : les approches génétiques ont permis d'identifier les dérégulations cellulaires en jeu dans les tumeurs et de développer des traitements ciblés. Des travaux précurseurs ont ainsi élucidé l'action combinée de l'arsenic et de l'acide rétinoïque sur la protéine responsable de la leucémie promyélocytaire. Ce traitement, qui a permis de guérir la quasi-totalité des patients, suscite l'espoir que la compréhension intime des mécanismes de la cancérogénèse puisse bientôt déboucher sur de nouvelles approches thérapeutiques transposables à d'autres cancers.

Sommario/riassunto	This Special Issue, "Approaches in Enhancing Antioxidant Defense in Plants" published 13 original research works and a couple of review articles that discuss the various aspects of plant oxidative stress biology and ROS metabolism, as well as the physiological mechanisms and approaches to enhancing antioxidant defense and mitigating oxidative stress. These papers will serve as a foundation for plant oxidative stress tolerance and, in the long term, provide further research directions in the development of crop plants' tolerance to abiotic stress in the era of climate change.
