

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910462303403321
Titolo	Complexity and planning [[electronic resource]] : systems, assemblages and simulations / / edited by Gert De Roo, Jean Hillier, Joris van Wezemael
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Burlington, Vt., : Ashgate, c2012
ISBN	1-317-16276-5 1-317-16275-7 1-280-67786-4 9786613654793 1-4094-0348-3
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (462 p.)
Collana	New directions in planning theory
Altri autori (Persone)	RooGert de HillierJean WezemaelJoris van
Disciplina	307.1/216
Soggetti	City planning - Philosophy City planning - Social aspects Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	pt. 1. Theoretical reflections bridging complexity and planning -- pt. 2. Complex systems and planning, in between the real and the relative -- pt. 3. Assemblage and a relational attitude to planning -- pt. 4. Simulating in between the real and the deal.
Sommario/riassunto	This book provides a readable overview, presenting and relating a range of understandings and characteristics of complexity and complex systems as they are relevant to planning. It recognizes multiple, relational approaches of dynamic complexity which enhance understandings of, and facilitate working with, contingencies of place, time and participants' behaviours.