

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910462546403321
Titolo	Resettling displaced people : policy and practice in India // editor Hari Mohan Mathur
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New Delhi [India] : , : Routledge, Taylor & Francis Group and Council for Social Development, , 2011
ISBN	1-136-70421-3 0-203-81402-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (442 p.)
Altri autori (Persone)	MathurHari Mohan
Disciplina	307.2 362.870954
Soggetti	Forced migration - India Economic development projects - Social aspects - India Land settlement - India Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Front Cover; Resettling Displaced People; Copyright Page; Contents; List of Abbreviations; Foreword by Muchkund Dubey; Acknowledgements; Introduction and overview; Part I: The governance challenge; 1. Making resettlement work: Policy, planning and management: Hari Mohan Mathur; Legal framework for land acquisition; Policy guidelines on resettlement; The planning of resettlement; Strengthening management capacity; The role of NGOs; Monitoring and evaluation; Part II: Emerging issues in resettlement policy 2. Converting resettlement policy into resettlement law: a welcome initiative but no occasion for celebration yet: Ramaswamy R. Iyer Strengthening resettlement policy; Reasons for scepticism; Some progress overall, but more needs to be done; 3. Broadening the definition of 'population displacement': Geography and economics in conservation policy: Michael M. Cernea; Researching and conceptualising forced displacement; The pivotal importance of the concept of displacement; The significant redefinition: Restriction of access seen as displacement; Twin objectives in establishing protected areas

What is the content of 'forced displacement'? New policy conclusions and operational prescriptions; The economic rationale underpinning the policy change; From policy to implementation; Additional financing provided for co-management; Focused research on restricted areas and property; 4. Involuntary resettlement policy and transport projects:

Gordon Appleby; Involuntary resettlement policy, its development and its objectives; Involuntary resettlement policy in the transport sector;

Good practice with involuntary resettlement in the transport sector

Road rehabilitation in post-conflict situations Summing-up; 5.

Resettlement realities: the gulf between policy and practice: Felix Padel and Samarendra Das; Rival constructions of reality; Orissa's R&R policy;

Disjunction between policy and practice; The phenomenon of displacement; Cultural genocide; Clash of ideologies; Rule of law;

Suggestions for reforming resettlement; Part III: Compensation and the resettlement process; 6. Misunderstood and misused: Re-examining the compensation criterion in resettlement: Supriya Garikipati; The compensation criterion and surrounding controversy

From abstract theory to applied policy Designing an incentive-compatible consultation process; The resettlement preferences;

Consultation exercises for better resettlement; 7. From Narmada to Nandigram: the never ending clamour for land as the only route to resettlement: Vasudha Dhagamwar; Circumstances changed, but not ideas on resettlement; The displaced people of Orissa; The West Bengal story; Experiences overlooked; Displacement affects tribal people differently; Unsustainability of the land option; Displaced not all land-dependent

8. Reconstructing livelihoods: The CIL experience with self-employment schemes: M. P. Roy

Sommario/riassunto

Developmental projects have long been displacing people in large numbers every year, but it is only in recent years that the fate of those adversely affected has become an issue of widespread concern requiring urgent action. This volume is the scholarly exploration of these critical issues in a wider perspective, examining resettlement policies as well as resettlement strategies, their strengths, their weaknesses, the persisting gap between policy and its actual practice and the means to improve resettlement outcomes. This volume is well-structured into four parts: (a) Displace
