Sommario/riassunto

The volume contains a collection of papers presented at the Fourth International Symposium of the Special Research Unit "Prevention and Intervention in Childhood and Adolescence" at the Center for Interdisciplinary Research of the University of Bielefeld, in December

1988. The theoretical discussions focus on the societal causes of the increased demand for social prevention and the theoretical, political and ethical limits of such measures. Furthermore methodological problems (meta-analysis, evaluation research and longitudinal research) are discussed in general articles and special research
