

|                         |   |
|-------------------------|---|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910463112803321   |
| Autore                  | Jones Vivien Yvonne   |
| Titolo                  | Flying-foxes : Australian night foresters // photographs and text,Vivien Jones  |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Dural, New South Wales : , : Rosenberg, , 2013©2013   |
| ISBN                    | 1-922013-95-1   |
| Descrizione fisica      | 1 online resource (192 p.)  |
| Disciplina              | 599.4   |
| Soggetti                | Gray-headed flying fox - AustraliaFlying foxes - AustraliaElectronic books.   |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese   |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa  |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia  |
| Note generali           | Description based upon print version of record.   |
| Nota di bibliografia    | Includes bibliographical references and index.  |
| Nota di contenuto       | ACKNOWLEDGMENTS; CONTENTS; Chapter 1: Approach; Chapter 2: Facts of life; Chapter 3: From birth; Chapter 4: Into adulthood; Chapter 5: A few of their clever ways; Chapter 6: Flying-fox calendar; Chapter 7: Point of view; Appendix 1: Geographic range of the Grey-headed Flying-fox ; Appendix 2: Predators and parasites; Appendix 3: Human hazards for flying-foxes; Appendix 4: Flying-foxes and human health; Appendix 5: Native food and useful garden plantings; Appendix 6: About taking the photographs; Appendix 7: Sources and further reading; Index |
| Sommario/riassunto      | The Grey-headed Flying-fox, or Pteropus poliocephalus is an Australian native mammal that plays a vital part in maintaining the health of forests along Australia's eastern coast. The species is crucial to the regeneration of our native hardwood forests and rainforests acting as pollinator and disperser of seeds as it feeds. This book is a brilliant photographic essay about the Grey-Headed Flying-fox.   |