

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910463285903321
Autore	MacDonald Margaret Y.
Titolo	The power of children : the construction of Christian families in the Greco-Roman world // Margaret Y. MacDonald
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Waco, Texas : , : Baylor University Press, , 2014 ©2014
ISBN	1-4813-0318-X 1-4813-0225-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (248 p.)
Disciplina	261.8/358509015
Soggetti	Children - History Children - Biblical teaching Families - History Christianity and other religions - Greek Christianity and other religions - Roman Church history - Primitive and early church, ca. 30-600 Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Half Title Page, Title Page, Copyright; Contents; Acknowledgments; 1. Introduction; 2. Small, Silent, but Ever Present; 3. Socialization and Education; 4. The House Church as Home School; 5. Conclusion; Notes; Works Cited; Index of Ancient Sources; Index of Modern Authors; Subject Index
Sommario/riassunto	The Power of Children examines Christian teaching about children in the context of family life in the Roman world. Specifically, author Margaret Y. MacDonald measures the impact of the New Testament's household codes (Colossians 3:18-4:1; Ephesians 5:21-6:9; the Pastoral letters) for understanding the status and role of children in Christian homes and assemblies. By allowing children to frame her analysis, MacDonald demonstrates that the rigid social divisions of the period (wives-husbands, children-parents, slaves-masters) were far more complex and overlapping within the Christian context-hig

