

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910465523603321
Autore	Alexenberg Melvin L
Titolo	The future of art in a postdigital age [[electronic resource]] : from Hellenistic to Hebraic consciousness // Mel Alexenberg
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bristol, : Intellect, 2011
ISBN	1-283-16279-2 9786613162793 1-84150-505-6
Edizione	[2nd ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (274 p.)
Disciplina	704.0392400904 709.05
Soggetti	Art and technology - Philosophy Art, Modern - 21st century Judaism and art Jews - Identity Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Updated and enlarged ed. of The future of art in a digital age. 2006.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Front Cover; Preliminary Pages; Contents; Author's Note for Postdigital Edition; Introduction: Postmodern Paradigm Shift: From Hellenistic to Hebraic Consciousness; Chapter 1: Postdigital Perspectives: Rediscovering Ten Fingers; Chapter 2: Semiotic Perspectives: Redefining Art in a Postdigital Age; Chapter 3: Morphological Perspectives: Space-Time Structures of Visual Culture; Chapter 4: Kabbalistic Perspectives: Creative Process in Art and Science; Chapter 5: Wiki Perspectives: Multifform Unity and Global Tribes; Chapter 6: Halakhic Perspectives: Creating a Beautiful Life; Index About the AuthorBack Cover
Sommario/riassunto	In The Future of Art in a Postdigital Age, artist and educator Mel Alexenberg offers a prophetic vision of a postdigital future that reveals a paradigm shift from the Hellenistic to the Hebraic roots of Western culture. The author surveys new art forms emerging from a postdigital age that address the humanization of digital technologies. He ventures beyond the digital to explore postdigital perspectives rising from creative encounters between art, science, technology, and human consciousness. New chapters "Postdigital Perspectives: Rediscovering Ten Fingers" and "Wiki Perspectives: Multiform"
