

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910467220603321
Autore	Escott Paul D. <1947->
Titolo	The Worst Passions of Human Nature : White Supremacy in the Civil War North // Paul D. Escott
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Charlottesville : , : University of Virginia Press, , 2020 Baltimore, Md. : , : Project MUSE, , 2020 ©2020
ISBN	0-8139-4385-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource
Collana	A nation divided : studies in the Civil War era
Disciplina	305.800973/09034
Soggetti	Political parties - United States - History - 19th century African Americans - Social conditions - To 1964 White supremacy movements - United States - History - 19th century Racism - United States - History - 19th century Electronic books. United States Politics and government 1861-1865 United States Race relations History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	War hastens abolition amid prejudice, 1861-1862 -- The democratic opposition, 1861-1862 -- The Emancipation Proclamation and reactions -- The "problem" of freed slaves -- Freed slaves in reality -- Progress in the war but not in racial policy -- Progress, political crisis, and regression -- Freedom and the staying power of white supremacy.
Sommario/riassunto	"This book examines the contrast between progress on emancipation and the persistence of virulent racism and white supremacist attitudes in the Civil War North. It analyzes both northern politics and the racial attitudes and assumptions that were revealed in newspapers, books, and magazines. Its central arguments are about the Democratic Party, the Republican Party, and the racism that flourished in Northern society and culture"--