Sommario/riassunto	This study is the first to analyse the manifold interrelations between armed conflicts and the human and natural environments both historically and sociologically. While most research to date has dealt with this topic primarily with regard to environmental destruction caused by acts of war or armament in peacetime, this publication goes one step further by highlighting the historical changes to this complex interrelationship with concrete examples: from the Second World War in Europe and Asia via the classic proxy war in Vietnam to the current asymmetric wars in South Asia. At the same time, it focuses on systematic questions: How do environments influence armed conflicts? How do wars change environments? And how do complete 'war landscapes' (warscapes) emerge, in which war and militarisation permanently change the relations between people and their environment? With contributions by: Detlef Briesen, Anthony Goreau-Ponceaud, David Pickus, Sarada Prasanna Das, Nguyen Thi Hanh, Nguyen Thi Thuy Hang, Dao Duc Thuan/Nguyen Van Ngoc, Tim Kaiser, Dam Thi Phuong Thuy/Nguyen Van Bac, Brigitte Sebastia, Manish Tiwari, Babu Rangaiah/Kumaresan Raja, Martin Dinges.

Sommario/riassunto	A medida que las hostilidades se orientan sucesivamente hacía su fin en los diversos teatros de guerra, se hace sentir con más urgencia la necesidad de resolver los problemas de la paz. Dentro de cada economía nacional hay que hacer frente a una multitud de cuestiones monetarias relacionadas con la desmovilización, la reconversión, la ocupación y los impuestos. Ningún país puede permitirse esperar hasta el fin de la guerra para prepararse y enfrentar las dificultades que se le presentaran en el periodo inmediato de posguerra. Latésis que inspira este ensayo consiste en afirmar que conviene a los intereses estrategicos y económicos de Estados Unidos tomar dicha iniciativa en el momento actual.
