

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910477180803321
Titolo	New frontiers of slavery // edited and with an introduction by Dale W. Tomich
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Albany, NY, : State University of New York Press, 2016
ISBN	1-4384-5865-7 9781438458656
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource
Collana	Fernand Braudel Center studies in historical social science
Disciplina	306.3/62
Soggetti	Enslaved persons Slavery Case studies.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Vassouras yesterday and today: revisiting the work of Stanley J. Stein / Dale W. Tomich -- Agency and transnational perspectives on the constitution of waged, unfree, and free labor: the role of mobility in the nineteenth century / Yann Moulier Boutang -- The discovery of progress in Cuba: machines, slaves, businesses / Jose Antonio Piqueras -- Antislavery and nationalism on the two sides of the Atlantic: in search of forgotten links between the nineteenth-century Americas and Europe / Enrico Dal Lago -- African labor in Guyana and the expansion of the second slavery / Wazir Mohamed -- On the blurred boundaries of freedom: liberated Africans in Cuba, 1817-1870 / Ines Roldan de Montaud -- Plantation laboratories: industrial experiments in the Cuban sugar mill, 1830-1860 / Daniel Rood -- Slavery, frontier, and diplomatic relations: Brazil-Uruguay, 1840-1860 / Keila Grinberg and Rachel Cae -- Ruling the household: masters and domestic slaves in the Paraiba Valley, Brazil, during the nineteenth century / Mariana Muaze -- French travelers and journalists debate the Lei do Ventre Livre of 1871 / Claudia Santos.
Sommario/riassunto	Essays challenging conventional understandings of the slave economy of the nineteenth century.

