

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910479898903321
Autore	Brown Nicholas <1961->
Titolo	A way through : the life of Rick Farley // Nicholas Brown and Susan Boden
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Sydney, New South Wales : , : NewSouth, , [2012] ©2012
ISBN	1-74224-137-9 1-74224-558-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (595 p.)
Disciplina	323.092
Soggetti	Political activists - Australia Human rights workers - Australia Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages 321-341) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover Page; Title Page; Copyright Page; Contents; Authors' Notes; Map of Key Locations; 1: 'Never Tired, never Sad, never Guilty'; 2: 'As Trendy as it was Possible to be'; 3: 'Not Like a Cattleman'; 4: 'Superhick'; 5: 'Stiletto Man'; 6: 'Starting to Understand'; 7: 'The Best Deal Possible'; 8: 'The Great Rick Farley'; 9: 'The better for having known him'; Afterword; Notes; Acknowledgments; Index; Back Cover
Sommario/riassunto	Rick Farley was an extraordinary man. As head of the Cattlemen's Union and National Farmers Federation, a key figure in the Landcare movement and a public campaigner for Indigenous rights and Reconciliation, Farley had an insiders view of many key political and social changes in Australia over his thirty years in the public eye.