

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910480247603321
Autore	Kist William
Titolo	The socially networked classroom [[electronic resource]] : teaching in the new media age // William Kist ; foreword by Kyleene Beers
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Thousand Oaks, Calif. ; ; London, : Corwin, c2010
ISBN	1-4522-7328-6 1-4129-6700-7 1-4522-0746-1
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (153 p.)
Disciplina	371.3346754 373.133
Soggetti	Internet in education Online social networks Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Contents; Foreword: Preparing Students for a World Gone Flat; Acknowledgments; About the Author; Chapter 1 - The Writing Is on the Screen: Social Networking Is Here to Stay; Chapter 2 - "Short": Social Networking in a Low-Tech Environment; A Blog Post From the Field; Chapter 3 - "Tall": Social Networking in a Medium-Tech Environment; A Blog Post From the Field; Chapter 4 - "Grande": Social Networking in a High-Tech Environment; A Blog Post From the Field; Chapter 5 - "Venti": Social Networking in an Unlimited Tech Environment; A Blog Post From the Field Chapter 6 - "Refill": Continuing the Dialogue Appendix: Sample Letters to Parents; References; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Kist shares his creative teaching methods in this book and points out the openings in teachers' practice where shift can happen. He identifies and documents the processes of teaching and learning via social networking in the new-media classroom.