

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910480830403321
Autore	Brander Rob
Titolo	Dr Rip's Essential Beach Book [[electronic resource] ] : Everything You Need to Know About Surf, Sand and Rips
Pubbl/distr/stampa	University of New South Wales Press, 2010
ISBN	1-74224-070-4 1-74223-098-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (1 p.)
Disciplina	333.784 363.1230994
Soggetti	Beaches -- Australia -- Recreational use -- Safety measures Coasts -- Australia -- Recreational use -- Safety measures Lifesaving -- Australia Surfing -- Australia -- Safety measures Swimming -- Australia -- Safety measures Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Shark fin soup and other things that can kill you: beach hazards and safety The shark attack survival guide; The beach safety checklist; Acknowledgments and photo credits; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Informative and entertaining, this safety guide describes how beaches work from a scientific perspective. Written by a geomorphologist, this accessible handbook offers suggestions on which beaches to visit around the world as well as tips on how to avoid rip currents, treat jelly fish stings, and build sand castles. With instruction on how to be conscientious of both waves and the effects of climate change, this comprehensive manual celebrates beaches while warning beachgoers about its dangers.