

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910484048203321
Titolo	Handbook of LGBT Communities, Crime, and Justice // edited by Dana Peterson, Vanessa R. Panfil
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, NY : , : Springer New York : , : Imprint : Springer, , 2014
ISBN	1-4614-9188-6
Edizione	[1st ed. 2014.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (581 p.)
Disciplina	155.34
Soggetti	Criminology Sex (Psychology) Gender expression Criminology and Criminal Justice, general Gender Studies Aufsatzsammlung
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Section 1: Introduction and Overview.- Introduction -- 'Queering' Criminology and the State of the Field -- Section 2: Crime, Victimization, and LGBTQ Communities -- Prevalence and Incidence of Anti-Gay Hate Crime and Harassment -- Bullying and Suicide Risk -- Gay Gang-and Crime-Involved Men's Responses to Anti-Gay Harassment and Threats of Violence -- Sri Lankan Nachchi Sex Workers' Experiences and Responses to Discrimination -- Same-Sex Domestic Violence -- Gender, Race, Sexuality, and Street Harassment -- Section 3: The Juvenile and Criminal Justice Systems and LGBTQ Communities -- Police Relationships with LGBTQ Populations -- Police Abuses Against Transgender Sex Workers -- Gays and Lesbians on Trial -- Courts, Corrections, and Individuals Who Are Transgender -- LGBTQ Youth and Adults in Juvenile and Adult Facilities -- Legislative Changes and Effects on LGBTQ Individuals -- Criminal Justice Responses to Lesbians and Gays in the Global Context -- Section 4: Crime, Public Health, and LGBTQ Communities -- Unprotected Sex in Sex Work -- The Nexus of Drug Use, Prostitution, and Homelessness Among LGBTQ Youth and Adults -- Criminalization of HIV/AIDS Transmission --

Sommario/riassunto

Contemporary scholars have begun to explore non-normative sexual orientation, gender identity, and gender expression in a growing victimization literature, but very little research is focused on LGBTQ communities' patterns of offending (beyond sex work) and their experiences with police, the courts, and correctional institutions. This Handbook, the first of its kind in Criminology and Criminal Justice, will break new ground by presenting a thorough treatment of all of these under-explored issues in one interdisciplinary volume that features current empirical work. This innovative handbook includes: -Review of background and historical coverage of issues related to LGBTQ individuals and criminology -Research on LGBTQ individuals' experience as victims as well as perpetrators of crimes, including well-established topics like anti-gay bias crimes, as well as less-explored topics like same-sex domestic violence and youth gang involvement -Exploration of interactions between LGBTQ communities and the justice system, including police, courts, and corrections agents, particularly in juvenile treatment facilities, jails and prisons. -Important contributions at the intersection of public health and criminology, not only from an epidemiological perspective, but also between certain criminally-defined behaviors and their public health consequences This timely and important work will be an essential resource for researchers in criminology interested in exploring issues facing LGBTQ individuals, as well as from related disciplines such as sociology, public health, and public policy. It offers a comprehensive source of the current research as well as a jumping-off point for future studies.

---