

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910484466503321
Autore	Farrall Stephen
Titolo	Building Complex Temporal Explanations of Crime : History, Institutions and Agency // by Stephen Farrall
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cham : , : Springer International Publishing : , : Imprint : Palgrave Macmillan, , 2021
ISBN	9783030748302 3030748308
Edizione	[1st ed. 2021.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (171 pages)
Collana	Critical Criminological Perspectives, , 2731-0612
Disciplina	364
Soggetti	Criminology Social sciences - Philosophy Political science Critical criminology Historiography History - Methodology Criminology Theory Research Methods in Criminology Social Theory Political Theory Critical Criminology Historiography and Method
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction -- Chapter One: Recognising Complexity -- Chapter Two: Historical and Constructivist Institutionalisms -- Chapter Three: Why-Because Analyses -- Chapter Four: Realistic Evaluation -- Chapter Five: Where have All the People Gone? Theories of Structuration, Practice and Agency -- Chapter Six: Research Designs and Research Methods -- Chapter Seven: An Exemplar -- Chapter Eight: Concluding Observations -- Glossary.
Sommario/riassunto	A thoroughly engrossing invitation to criminologists to take history seriously. It is a compelling book, which casts a critical eye on complexity, continuity and change. Written with flair and imagination, it provides a bold, dynamic framework to challenge the existing parameters of criminological inquiry. Original, ambitious and thought provoking - this is an important and timely work. Eamonn Carrabine, Professor of Criminology, Department of Sociology, University of Essex

A timely and refreshing read from start to finish. By offering complex answers to complex problems, Professor Farrall presents a compelling vision of criminology which is underpinned by interdisciplinarity, context, temporal processes and agency. Essential reading for anyone seeking to develop and challenge their own thinking around issues of crime. Neil Chakraborti, Professor in Criminology, University of Leicester.
