

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910498500703321
Autore	Atkins Peter J
Titolo	Essays on population and space in India // Christophe Z. Guilmoto, Alain Vaguet
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Pondichéry, : Institut Français de Pondichéry, 2021
ISBN	979-1-03-656662-2
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (256 p.)
Collana	Collection Sciences Sociales
Altri autori (Persone)	BoquératGilles ChapmanGraham P ChappuisAnne de GolbéryLuc DupontVéronique EliotEmmanuel Guetat-BernardHélène GuilmotoChristophe Z KumarNaresh LandyFrédéric LeclercEric Louiset-VaguetOdette PathakPushpa RacineJean-Luc RajuSaraswati RihoueyFlorence TownsendJ G VaguetAlain VéronJacques GuilmotoChristophe Z
Soggetti	Demography Urban Studies urbanisation India space health population minority demography woman geography

cartography
Inde
espace
santé
minorité
démographie femme géographie
cartographie

---

Lingua di pubblicazione

Inglese

---

Formato

Materiale a stampa

---

Livello bibliografico

Monografia

---

Sommario/riassunto

Indian territory, from regional to local level, remains a fundamentally composite space, divided into varying segments of more homogeneous appearance. Closer analysis shows that these segments are themselves subdivided and that spaces and resources are unequally shared and often disputed among social groups. The chapters in this volume, each in its own way, illustrate the ubiquity of oppositions running across the regions, irrespective of the level of analysis chosen. The resulting image of India is that of a complex and fast evolving system characterized by strong social and historical Patterning as well as extensive spatial recombination. This collection of essays, first published in France in 1997 and based on abundant cartographic materials, brings together a selection of studies by geographers and other social scientists on India, covering a large variety of topics : population dynamics, rural-urban linkages, spatial discrimination, health issues, minorities, etc. These varied research interests open a large number of areas related to spatial organization in India, integrating demographic, economic and anthropological questions and illustrate the relevance of an informed geographical perspective for the study of social transformation in India. The authors would readily agree on the modesty which these essays are bound to evidence, so rich and embedded is the fabric of Indian space. Readers henceforth have more material to form, in their turn, new images reflecting contemporary India and its transitional geography.

---

2. Record Nr.	UNINA9910872352903321
Autore	Radomme Thibaut
Titolo	Le privilege des livres : bilinguisme et concurrence culturelle dans le Roman de Fauvel remanie et dans les gloses au premier livre de l'Ovide moralise // Thibaut Radomme
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Genève, : Librairie Droz, 2021
Disciplina	840 809
Soggetti	Bilingualism and literature - 14th century Manuscripts, Medieval - France - 14th century Bilingualism - Social aspects - France - 14th century Bilinguisme et litterature - 14e siecle Manuscrits medievaux - France - 14e siecle Bilingualism and literature Bilingualism - Social aspects Manuscripts, Medieval Criticism, interpretation, etc. France
Lingua di pubblicazione	Francese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	Dans le processus d'émancipation de la langue vernaculaire face au latin, le XIVe siècle est généralement considéré comme le moment où le français achève d'imposer son statut de nouvel idiome de référence. Composés dans les années 1310, le Roman de Fauvel et l'Ovide moralisé se distinguent de la production de l'époque : rédigés initialement en français, ils sont tous deux le théâtre d'une surprenante réapparition du latin au gré de l'insertion de pièces musicales ou de gloses marginales bilingues dans certains de leurs témoins, manuscrits de luxe manifestement destinés à la haute aristocratie laïque. En se fondant sur l'analyse des interactions entre le texte français et les sections latines, le présent ouvrage suggère d'interpréter le bilinguisme du corpus à la lumière du dilemme occupant les clercs sous le règne des derniers Capétiens, partagés entre le désir d'instruire utilement les laïcs et l'ambition de préserver leur privilège sur les livres.

This book analyzes the interactions between fourteenth century French manuscripts and the Latin passages included in them. This bilingualism highlights the dilemma of the clerics of the last Capetians who wanted to instruct while also preserving their privilege over books.

---