Sommario/riassunto

This collection of essays explores the notion, tools and challenges of human rights diplomacy, which is understood as the utilisation of diplomatic negotiation and persuasion for the specific purpose of promoting and protecting human rights. Theoretical reflections are combined with first-hand accounts from a range of policy-makers involved in human rights diplomacy at the bilateral, regional and multilateral (UN) level. Contributors include inter-governmentally appointed office-holders, human rights ambassadors, members of UN human rights treaty bodies and representatives of inter-governmental organisations, national human rights organisations and non-governmental organisations. Their analysis shows that skilful and principled diplomacy can become a crucial part of a holistic approach to human rights protection, complementing other means such as legal remedies, public advocacy, political pressure and technical assistance. This book builds on discussions at a high-level workshop on the topic, organised by the University of Nottingham Human Rights Law Centre, the European Inter-University Centre for Human Rights and Democratisation and the Adam Mickiewicz University of Pozna.

Sommario/riassunto

Au cours de la dernière décennie, l'usage du terme mobilité, porté par le mobility turn, s'est progressivement substitué à migration dans la sphère politique et dans la recherche sans que ce glissement conceptuel n'ait réellement fait l'objet d'un questionnement approfondi. Ont ainsi été intégrées au sein d'un même corpus analytique toutes les formes de déplacement physique des personnes, les mobilités imaginaires, virtuelles et de communication comme celles des objets. L'ouvrage les interroge dans une perspective pluridisciplinaire en proposant une réflexion épistémologique autour des termes «mobilité» et «migration» et de leurs relations afin d'interroger les présupposés des mobilities studies. Articulé en trois parties destinées à explorer les liens, porosités et impermanences de ces concepts, il porte sur la production des catégories par le politique et l'administration, les représentations de la migration et de la mobilité, et les reconfigurations apportées par les nouvelles technologies aux frontières entre mobilité et migration.
