

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910516104903321
Autore	Felder Ekkehard
Titolo	Bausteine einer Korpusgrammatik des Deutschen . Band 2 : (2021) // Ekkehard Felder, Marek Konopka, Angelika Wollstein
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Heidelberg : , : Heidelberg University Publishing (heiUP), , 2021
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (173 pages)
Disciplina	415
Soggetti	Grammar, Comparative and general - Morphology
Lingua di pubblicazione	Tedesco
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	Bausteine einer Korpusgrammatik des Deutschen ("Building blocks towards a corpus grammar of German") is a series presenting corpus linguistic studies on German grammar conducted at the Leibniz Institute for the German Language in Mannheim (IDS). Using state-of-the-art corpus linguistic methodology, the series aims to capture the diversity and variability of German grammar at a high resolution. At the same time, it aims to ensure the study results are verifiable. Issue by issue, the series will add "building blocks" for a new, consistently corpus-based grammar of German. In addition to the peer-reviewed texts, which are written in the style of grammar chapters, the series publishes the results of statistical analyses and, for selected topics, the underlying data sets.