

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910524897703321
Autore	Hoffer Williamjames
Titolo	To Enlarge the Machinery of Government : Congressional Debates and the Growth of the American State, 1858–1891 / / Williamjames Hull Hoffer
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Baltimore : , : Johns Hopkins University Press, , 2007 ©2007
ISBN	1-4214-0241-6
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (276 p.)
Collana	Reconfiguring American political history
Disciplina	320.97309/034
Soggetti	Debates and debating - United States Federal government - United States Electronic books. United States Politics and government 19th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [207]-248) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction : "badly in detail but well on the whole": the second state -- Prologue : "the great, noisy, reedy, jarring assembly" : the Capitol, lawyers, and public space -- A "government of states" : sponsorship and the first debate on land grant colleges, 1858-1861 -- "The object of a democratic government" : sponsorship and supervision of agriculture and land grant colleges, 1861-1863 -- "A government of law" : sponsoring and supervising the freedmen, abandoned lands, and refugees, 1863-1865 -- The "twin pillars" of the state : the supervision and standardization of education and law enforcement, 1865-1876 -- "To change the nature of the government" : standardizing schooling and the civil service, 1876-1883 -- "What constitutes a state" : supervising labor and commerce, 1883-1886 -- "A system entirely satisfactory to the country" : standardizing labor and the courts, 1886-1891 -- Conclusion : "to answer our purposes, it must be adapted".
Sommario/riassunto	The "second stateera, Hoffer contends, offers valuable insight into how conceptions of American uniqueness contributed to the shape of the federal government.

