

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910539101803321
Autore	van Eijken Hanneke
Titolo	EU citizenship and the constitutionalisation of the European Union // Hanneke van Eijken
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Groningen, Netherlands : , : Europa Law Publishing, , 2015 ©2015
ISBN	90-8952-157-7
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (325 p.)
Collana	European Administrative Law
Disciplina	342.24
Soggetti	Constitutional law - European Union countries Human rights - European Union countries Electronic books. European Union countries Politics and government
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	EU Citizenship & the Constitutionalisation of the European Union; Contents; Abbreviations; Chapter 1. Introduction: The role of European citizenship in the constitutionalisation of the European Union; Chapter 2. Analytical framework and structure; Chapter 3. The effect of European citizenship on the vertical division of powers; Chapter 4. The effect of European citizenship on common ideology: the protection of fundamental rights linked to European citizenship; Chapter 5. The effect of European citizenship on the common ideology in the European Union: democracy and political rights Chapter 6. The effect of European citizenship on the justiciability and constitutional primacy of Union law Chapter 7. Conclusions: the effect of European citizenship on the constitutionalisation of the European Union; Bibliography; Table of cases
Sommario/riassunto	It has been 20 years since EU citizenship was introduced under the Treaty of Maastricht, yet it remains a topical and contemporary issue. The main research question in this study is whether and how European citizenship affects the constitutionalization of the EU. It connects European citizenship with European constitutional processes, in order to grasp the constitutional relevance of EU citizenship. To this end, the different aspects of European citizenship are specifically linked to features that are commonly found in constitutions. The effect of and the relationship between four of these con
