

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910571753403321
Autore	Graziani Michela
Titolo	Nel segno di Magellano tra terra e cielo : Il viaggio nelle arti umanistiche e scientifiche di lingua portoghese e di altre culture europee in un'ottica interculturale / / Michela Graziani, Lapo Caselli, Salome Vuelta Garcia
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Florence : , : Firenze University Press, , 2021
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (492 pages)
Disciplina	401
Soggetti	Language and languages
Lingua di pubblicazione	Italiano
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	This miscellaneous volume aims to commemorate the Iberian and European celebrations about Magellan that started in 2019. Specifically, the volume commemorates: the person and the image of Magellan on earth (celebrating the 500 years of his circumnavigation of the Earth) and in the universe (remembering the two Magellanic clouds); the Eddington's journey and the Apollo XI flight to the moon, through many essays that investigate the concept of travel in its several attitudes (explorative, scientific, philosophical, introspective, literary) in Sciences and Humanities, from ancient to contemporary ages, in an intercultural perspective, following a thematic scheme and a chronological one as well, if it is possible.

2. Record Nr.	UNINA9910963662303321
Autore	Hollinger David A
Titolo	Cosmopolitanism and solidarity : studies in ethnoracial, religious, and professional affiliation in the United States // David A. Hollinger
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Madison, Wis., : University of Wisconsin Press, c2006
ISBN	9786612270116 9780299216634 0299216632 9781282270114 1282270117
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	xxv, 213 p
Collana	Studies in American thought and culture
Disciplina	305.800973
Soggetti	Multiculturalism - United States Cosmopolitanism - United States Solidarity - United States Cultural relativism - United States Education, Higher - Social aspects - United States Church and education - United States Christianity and culture - United States United States Race relations United States Ethnic relations United States Religion
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 187-208) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Amalgamation and hypodescent : the question of ethnoracial mixture in the history of the United States -- The one drop rule and the one hate rule -- The historian's use of the United States and vice versa -- Money and academic freedom a half-century after McCarthyism : universities amid the force fields of capital -- Enough already : universities do not need more Christianity -- The enlightenment and the genealogy of contemporary cultural conflict in the United States -- Why are Jews preeminent in science and scholarship? the Veblen Thesis reconsidered -- Rich, powerful, and smart : Jewish overrepresentation should be explained instead of avoided or mystified -- Cultural relativism.

Sommario/riassunto

"Who are we?" is the question at the core of these fascinating essays from one of the nation's leading intellectual historians. With old identities increasingly destabilized throughout the world-the result of demographic migration, declining empires, and the quickening integration of the global capitalist economy and its attendant communications systems-David A. Hollinger argues that the problem of group solidarity is emerging as one of the central challenges of the twenty-first century. Building on many of the topics in his highly acclaimed earlier work, these essays treat a number of contentious issues, many of them deeply embedded in America's past and present political polarization. Essays include "Amalgamation and Hypodescent, " "Enough Already: Universities Do Not Need More Christianity, " "Cultural Relativism, " "Why Are Jews Preeminent in Science and Scholarship: The Veblen Thesis Reconsidered, " and "The One Drop Rule and the One Hate Rule." Hollinger is at his best in his judicious approach to America's controversial history of race, ethnicity, and religion, and he offers his own thoughtful prescriptions as Americans and others throughout the world struggle with the pressing questions of identity and solidarity.