Titolo	Approaches to the purification, analysis and characterization of antibody-based therapeutics // edited by Allan Matte [and seven others]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Amsterdam, Netherlands : , : Elsevier Limited, , [2020] ©2020
ISBN	0-08-103019-3
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (224 pages)
Disciplina	615.36
Soggetti	Antibody-drug conjugates Immunoglobulins
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	1. Overview of therapeutic antibodies; 2. Platform purification approaches; 3. Strategies in the context of mAb downstream process development; 4. Process-scale purification of antibody therapeutics; 5. Process analytics for mAb purification and process development; 6. Automation approaches for small-scale mAb purification and assay development; 7. Glycan characterization of therapeutic mAbs; 8. Characterization of therapeutic antibodies using mass spectrometry; 9. Antibody binding studies using surface plasmon resonance and bio-layer interferometry methods; 10. Higher-order structure characterization methods; 11. Conformational and colloidal stability analysis of mAbs; 12. Future trends and opportunities.
Sommario/riassunto	Approaches to the Purification, Analysis and Characterization of Antibody-Based Therapeutics provides the interested and informed reader with an overview of current approaches, strategies and considerations relating to the purification, analytics and characterization of therapeutic antibodies and related molecules. While there are obviously other books published in and around this subject area, they seem to be either older (c.a. year 2000 publication date) or are more limited in scope. The book will include an extensive bibliography of the published literature in the respective areas covered. It is not, however, intended to be a how-to methods book.

Nota di contenuto	Chapter 1: Introduction -- Chapter 2: Educational mobilities in the metropolis -- Chapter 3: Mobilities of African and AfroEuropean leisure travelers -- Chapter 4: Mobile "homecomings" from Europe to Africa -- Chapter 5: Work, labor, and AfroEuropean (im)mobilities -- Chapter 6: Clandestine AfroEuropean itineraries.
Sommario/riassunto	"Engaging Francophone African literary texts, this book challenges reductive readings of postcolonial mobility in migration and diaspora studies. Its complex framing of AfroEuropean mobilities surfaces educational, professional, leisure, urban and other mobilities obscured by otherwise dominant imaginaries of the clandestine African migrant." —Polo B. Moji, Author of Gender and the Spatiality of Blackness in Contemporary AfroFrench Narratives (2022), University of Cape Town,

South Africa "This is the first book to bring together the new mobilities paradigm with postcolonial African literature. Toivanen deftly analyses a wide range of embodied experiences, spaces, vehicles and creative practices of mobility within Afro-European fiction. From clandestine migration to everyday commuting, from tourism to diasporic return, she opens a refreshed mobile perspective on a rich body of Francophone literature that will be of great interest to both mobility scholars and literary scholars." —Mimi Sheller, Dean of The Global School, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, USA

This open access book contributes to the mobility humanities from the perspective of postcolonial literary mobilities and aims at enhancing dialogue between mobilities research and postcolonial literary studies. The study produces new perspectives on Afro-European mobilities in Francophone African and Afrodiasporic literatures from the mid-twentieth century to the present, covering a wide set of texts across literary genres. Focusing on representations of educational travel, tourism, diasporic returns, work-related mobilities, and clandestine migratory journeys, Toivanen examines portrayals of mobility practices and modes of transport to map out the meanings of embodied (im)mobilities in the Afro-European context. In addition to thematic analysis, the volume also explores the manifestations of mobility in literary form. Anna-Leena Toivanen is an Academy Research Fellow at the University of Eastern Finland. She is the author of Mobilities and Cosmopolitanisms in African and Afrodiasporic Literatures (2021) and co-editor of Urban Mobilities in Literature and Art Activism (2024).

This edited volume assembles contributions of leading scholars in the fields of statistical methods and applications in the social sciences. Multivariate scaling methods for categorical data, in particular correspondence analysis, are used to extract the most important dimensions from complex data tables and to visualize relationships in the data. The volume treats recent statistical developments, methodological considerations, and empirical applications. A special emphasis is placed on multiple aspects of space and their sociological significance: the reconstruction of "social spaces" with statistical methods, illustrations of spatial relations involving proximity, distance and inequality, and concrete interactions in urban neighbourhoods. The edited volume is meant to honour the lifetime achievements of Prof. Jörg Blasius (Chair of Sociology/ Empirical Research Methods, Bonn). Der Sammelband vereint Beiträge von führenden Forscherinnen und Forschern im Bereich statistischer Methoden und deren Anwendung in den Sozialwissenschaften mit einem besonderen Fokus auf sozialen Räumen. Multivariate Skalierungsmethoden für kategoriale Daten, speziell Korrespondenzanalyse, werden verwendet um die wichtigsten Dimensionen aus komplexen Kreuztabellen mit vielen Variablen zu extrahieren und Zusammenhänge in den Daten bildlich darzustellen. In diesem Band werden statistische Weiterentwicklungen, grundsätzliche methodologische Überlegungen und empirische Anwendungen multivariater Analysemethoden diskutiert. Mehrere Anwendungsbeispiele thematisieren verschiedene Aspekte des Raumes und deren soziologische Bedeutung: die Rekonstruktion „sozialer Räume“ mit statistischen Methoden, die Illustration räumlicher Beziehungen zwischen Nähe, Distanz und Ungleichheit, aber auch konkrete Interaktionen in urbanen Räumen. Der Band erscheint zur Würdigung der wissenschaftlichen Leistungen von Prof. Jörg Blasius.
