

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910598144703321
Titolo	North Africa 2030 : what the future holds for the region // edited by Armando Sanguini, Karim K. Mezran
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Milan : , : Ledizioni, , 2021
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (158 pages)
Disciplina	320.961
Soggetti	Africa, North Politics and government 21st century Africa, North Politics and government 20th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Preface 8 -- 1. Political, Economic, and Security Challenges in North Africa 11 -- 2. Governance in North Africa: Taking Stock for Future Change 35 -- 3. Managing Climate Change and Mapping an Energy Transition in North Africa 65 -- 4. North African Cities: Actors for Sustainable Development or Sites of Imported Urban Visions? 81 -- 5. A New Demographic Opportunity Approaches: Will North Africa (Again) -- Fail to Catch It? 101 -- 6. Regional Cooperation and Permeability to External Influence 128 -- Conclusions 143 -- About the Authors 149.
Sommario/riassunto	Over ten years after the "Arab Spring", the turmoil that swept across North Africa has taken many forms, bringing about change, although not always in a desirable direction. But the Arab uprisings have also brought about a surprising amount of "more of the same": a decade on, the problems that plagued the region in 2010 have not gone away. This report looks at the future of the region, asking: what will North Africa be in 2030? Which direction could the region as a whole, and specific countries, take, and which challenges will they have to face? And what are the implications for Europe and the US?.