

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910616394603321
Autore	Darvishy Alireza
Titolo	Age-Appropriate Digital Channels / / by Alireza Darvishy, Hans-Peter Hutter, Alexander Seifert
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Wiesbaden : , : Springer Fachmedien Wiesbaden : , : Imprint : Springer Vieweg, , 2022
ISBN	9783658384463 3658384468
Edizione	[1st ed. 2022.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (71 pages)
Collana	SpringerBriefs in Computational Intelligence, , 2625-3712
Disciplina	005.3
Soggetti	Software engineering Interactive multimedia Multimedia systems Ethics Mass media - Moral and ethical aspects Software Engineering Media Design Moral Philosophy and Applied Ethics Media Ethics
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Introduction -- Age-appropriate website design -- Age-appropriate mobile applications -- Conclusion and implementation.
Sommario/riassunto	As a client or a developer, what do you need to consider when developing an age-appropriate website or mobile application? This book explains how age-related limitations affect the use of websites and mobile applications. If gerontological aspects are not taken into account in the design of digital channels, older people tend to do without them. Therefore, websites and mobile applications need to take into account the needs of older people. In the book, you will find useful recommendations on how to do this so that your websites and mobile apps are easy to use for everyone. The content Age-specific characteristics and difficulties in using websites and applications Recommendations for the implementation of websites and mobile applications. The authors Prof. Dr. Alireza Darvishy is Professor of Computer Science with specialisation in ICT accessibility at the Zurich University of Applied Sciences (ZHAW) and adjunct Professor at Isfahan University of Technology. Prof. Dr. Hans-Peter Hutter is Professor of Computer Science with specialisation in human-computer interaction and speech-based user interfaces at the ZHAW. Dr. Alexander Seifert is Head of Research at the Centre for Gerontology at the University of Zurich.
