1. Record Nr. UNINA9910617310203321 Autore Brady Mary Pat <1961-> Titolo Scales of Captivity: racial capitalism and the Latinx child / / Mary Pat Brady Durham:,: Duke University Press,, 2022 Pubbl/distr/stampa ISBN 1-4780-2255-8 1 online resource (xi, 297 pages): illustrations Descrizione fisica Disciplina 810.9868073 Soggetti American literature - Hispanic American authors - History and criticism Hispanic Americans in literature Children in literature Immigrant children - Mexican-American Border Region Lingua di pubblicazione Inglese Formato Materiale a stampa Monografia Livello bibliografico Nota di bibliografia Includes bibliographical references and index. Nota di contenuto The Scalar Lien -- Lola's Secret -- Plausible Deniability: Pursuing the Traces of Captivity -- Earthly Motions -- N + 1: Sex and the Hypervisual (Invisible) Migrant -- Misplaced: Peopling a Deportation Imaginary. "In Scales of Captivity, Mary Pat Brady traces the figure of the captive or Sommario/riassunto cast-off child in Latinx and Chicanx literature and art between chattel slavery's final years and the mass deportations of the twenty-first century. She shows how Latinx expressive practices expose how every rescaling of economic and military power requires new modalities of

"In Scales of Captivity, Mary Pat Brady traces the figure of the captive of cast-off child in Latinx and Chicanx literature and art between chattel slavery's final years and the mass deportations of the twenty-first century. She shows how Latinx expressive practices expose how every rescaling of economic and military power requires new modalities of capture, new ways to bracket and hedge life. Through readings of novels by Helena Maria Viramontes, Oscar Casares, Lorraine Lopez, Maceo Montoya, Reyna Grande, Daniel Pena, and others, Brady illustrates how submerged captivities reveal the way mechanisms of constraint such as deportability underpin institutional forms of carceral modernity and how such practices scale relations by naturalizing the logic of scalar hierarchies underpinning racial capitalism. By showing how representations of the captive child critique the entrenched logic undergirding colonial power, Brady challenges racialized modes of citizenship while offering visions for living beyond borders"-- Provided by publisher.