

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910629590403321
Autore	Spatzek Samira
Titolo	Unruly narrative : private property, self-making , and Toni Morrison's A Mercy // Samira Spatzek
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Boston : , : De Gruyter, , 2022
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (viii, 284 pages)
Disciplina	323.46
Soggetti	Right of property
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	This study deals with the formative powers of modern liberal ideas of private property. The liberal subject emerged with the formations of European liberalism, Atlantic slavery, and settler colonial expansion in the New World. Toni Morrison's A Mercy is thus identified as a key literary text that generates a fundamental critique of the connections between self-making and private property at its 17th-century scene.