Sommario/riassunto	"We study the Jacobian J of the smooth projective curve C of genus $r-1$ with affine model $y^r = x^{r-1}(x+1)(x+t)$ over the function field $\mathbb{F}_p(t)$, when p is prime and r [greater than or equal to] 2 is an integer prime to p . When q is a power of p and d is a positive integer, we compute the L-function of J over $\mathbb{F}_q(t^{1/d})$ and show that the Birch and Swinnerton-Dyer conjecture holds for J over $\mathbb{F}_q(t^{1/d})$. When d is divisible by r and of the form $p^{\nu} + 1$, and $K_d := \mathbb{F}_p(\mu_d, t^{1/d})$, we write down explicit points in $J(K_d)$, show that they generate a subgroup V of rank $(r-1)(d-2)$ whose index in $J(K_d)$ is finite and a power of p , and show that the order of the Tate-Shafarevich group of J over K_d is $[J(K_d) : V]^2$. When $r > 2$, we prove that the "new" part of J is isogenous over $\mathbb{F}_p(t)$ to the square of a simple abelian variety of dimension $\phi/2$ with endomorphism algebra $\mathbb{Z}[[\mu]r]^+$. For a prime with $p \nmid r$, we prove that $J^{\text{new}}(L) = \{0\}$ for any abelian extension L of $\mathbb{F}_p(t)$ --

Sommario/riassunto

"This absorbing book makes a rich intervention into historical fiction, life-writing, and feminist and queer cultural history." —Ann Heilmann, author of Neo-Victorian Biophilia and James Miranda Barry: A Study in Transgender and Transgenre (2018) "A fascinating exploration of the intimate interaction of gendered history and biographical fiction [...] intelligently and incisively interrogates the deliberate use of fiction to recentre marginalized female historical figures." —Farah Mendlesohn, author of Creating Memory: Historical Fiction and the English Civil Wars (2022) Imagining Gender in Biographical Fiction addresses the current boom in biographical fictions across the globe, examining the ways in which gendered lives of the past become re-imagined as gendered narratives in fiction. It addresses questions of gender in a sustained and systematic manner that is sensitive to cultural and historical differences in both raw material and fictional reworking. It draws on theories of biofiction and historical fiction, life-writing studies, feminist criticism, queer feminist readings, postcolonial studies, feminist art history, and trans studies. Attentive to various approaches to fictionalisation that reclaim, appropriate or re-invent their 'raw material', the volume assesses the critical, revisionist and deconstructive potential of biographical fictions while acknowledging the effects of cliché, gender norms and established narratives in many of the texts under investigation.
