

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910688308903321
Autore	Barnetson Bob
Titolo	Canada's Labour Market Training System // Bob Barnetson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Edmonton : , : Athabasca University Press, , 2018
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (205 pages)
Disciplina	331.120971
Soggetti	Labor market - Canada Manpower policy - Canada
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Canada's training system in outline Post-secondary education and the apprenticeship training system Government training and immigration policy Workplace training and learning Community-based education and training Reproducing patterns of advantage and disadvantage through training.
Sommario/riassunto	How does the current labour market training system function and whose interests does it serve? In this introductory textbook, Bob Barnetson wades into the debate between workers and employers, and governments and economists to investigate the ways in which labour power is produced and reproduced in Canadian society. After sifting through the facts and interpretations of social scientists and government policymakers, Barnetson interrogates the training system through analysis of the political and economic forces that constitute modern Canada. This book not only provides students of Canada's division of labour with a general introduction to the main facets of labour-market training-including skills development, post-secondary and community education, and workplace training-but also encourages students to think critically about the relationship between training systems and the ideologies that support them.