

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910698998403321
Titolo	Highway infrastructure [[electronic resource] ] : federal efforts to strengthen security should be better coordinated and targeted on the nation's most critical highway infrastructure : report to the Chairman, Committee on Homeland Security, House of Representatives
Pubbl/distr/stampa	[Washington, D.C.] : , : U.S. Govt. Accountability Office, , [2009]
Descrizione fisica	iii, 79 pages : digital, PDF file
Soggetti	Roads - Security measures - United States Transportation - Security measures - United States Risk assessment - United States
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Title from title screen (viewed on Mar. 30, 2009). "January 2009." "GAO-09-57."
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Sommario/riassunto	GAO was asked to assess the progress DHS has made in securing the nation's highway infrastructure. This report addresses the extent to which federal entities have conducted and coordinated risk assessments; DHS has developed a risk-based strategy; and stakeholders, such as state and local transportation entities, have taken voluntary actions to secure highway infrastructure--and the degree to which DHS has monitored such actions.