| Sommario/riassunto      | The external border of the EU remains under permanent construction.Sabrina Ellebrecht engages with two of its primary building sites – theEuropean Border Surveillance System (Eurosir) and the Refugee Boat.She analyzes how the function and quality of the EU's current politicalborder is crafted, shaped, produced and eventually stabilized throughthese two mediators. Eurosir and the Refugee Boat mediate a level ofEuropeanization which has hitherto – and would otherwise have – beenimpossible. While Eurosir mobilizes the limits of border policing invarious ways, the Refugee Boat functions as the vacillating EuropeanOther to legitimize both control and humanitarian interventions. Thestudy shows the specific, if not constitutive, ambivalences of EU borderpolicies, and explores the emergence of viapolitics.Besprochen in: InfoDienst Migration, 3 (2020) |
